In the speech referred to, Mr. Manderson presents a series of statements in tabular form, the purpose of which is to show that the military burden imposed upon the American people by the Republican Administration is extremely light when compared with the burden borne by the subjects of other Governments. Mr. Manderson took occasion to say that the tables had been prepared "with very great care" and that he had sought to make them "accurate beyond the possibility of dispute."
In the matter of the data relating to the foreign countries Mr. Manderson said that it had been "brought down to the very latest date possible." He did not say specifically that the data relating to the speciments that the data relating to the United States had been brought down to the very latest date possible. After presenting tables showing the relation of soldiers to population and area he gave the cost of maintenance of the various military establishments as follows: France, $122,517,681; Germany, $141,175,-250; Austria Hungary, $86,083,024; Russia, $148,640,191; Turkey, $19,951,755; Italy, $45,669,609; Great Britain, $88,152,750; United States, $51,693,927.

Contention of Democrats.

The contention of the Democratic managers is that the cost of the American Army as given by Mr. Manderson is for the year 1896, two years before the Spansh-American war, and before the issues militurism and imperialism were born, is only the data relating to the fore an stablishments which Mr. Manderson "brings down to the latest date porsible."

The Democratic managers act forth that the actual appropriation for the American Army for the fiscal year 1901 is $114,229-095, which is nearly five times the amount under the Democratic regime. The cost α; the army in 1896 was only $23,252,608. The st of General Manderson's $51,093,927 ents river and berber and other non-differs expenditures.

All the following expenditures, provided or in our appropriation bills for the fiscal ear 1901, are included in the European litary budget: Army, $114,220,005.55; fortifications, Army, $114,220,005.55; 157432,589.67; $7,383,628; Military Academy, $502,589.67; Pensions, $145,245,250; total, $267,502,- as that paid by either Germany or Russia, more than twice as much as France pays, thrice as great us the barden of Great Britain or of Austria, six times greater than Italy bears, and thirteen times greater than the cost of the Turkich miliory establishment.

These facts, it is believed, are pressing pen the minds of the German-Americans. Dr. Habercomb's Announcement.

Dr. L. W. Habercom, who was German cretary to the Republican National Committee, in announcing his withdrawal from the ranks of the imperialists, at the souon of the National Anti-Imperialist Loague, at Indianapolis, said: "If Mc-Kinley is re-elected, the chances are that the standing army of the United States will be increased to 200,000 men, because under the new order of things we are sound to be embroiled in all the troubles

if the world."
Representative Hay, one of the foresost member of the House Committee on Military Affairs, recently urged that in order to recruit a standing army such as contemplated by the Republican Administration and made necessary by the policy Republican party. would have to be resorted to. He based his assertion upon the fact that when the American Army was only 25,000 or 30,000 trong, the enlistments were never enough o keep the army at its maximum strength.
Well informed politicians in Washington say that there are three potent classes of men at work in the interest of Bryan and Stevenson which were actively en-caged in the support of McKinley and Hobart in 1896. These classes of men ars commorcial travelers, hotel men, and coupon ticket agents. The "drummers" and hotel men have organized an Anti-Trust League, and have established a newspaper in New York. The league has a membership all eady of fifty thousand.

THE ALABAMA IN DRY DOCK. Preparations Reing Made for the Battleship's Trial Trip.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.- The first class battleship Alabama was floated into Timber Drydock No. 3 at the Brooklyn Navy Yard this morning, where work will begin at once in putting her in trim for her trial trip, which will take place next Tuesday. As soon as the drydock was pumped out the crew went right to work scraping and painting her bottom. When this is over the Navai Board of Survey, who will superintend her trial trib, will make a careful inspection of her hull.

The Alabama is in splendid condition and when she is put in shape for her trip the members of the board have no doubt but what she will make the required sixteen knots with something to spare.

The Alabama is the first of the type of first-class battleships approved in 1895 to be finished. She is a sister ship to the Illinois, now on the ways at Newport News, and the Wisconsin, which is being constructed at the Union Iron Works, San Prancisco. The Alabama though practice.

The population in 1880 was 20,518, showing an increase of 109,934, or 36,23 per cent, from 1880 to 1800.
